

NARA

What do food and architecture have in common? More than you might think: Each dish is made up of individual components. They can be taken apart and put together in unexpected ways. "Deconstruction food" invites chefs to break down the classic presentation of their culinary creations analytically and play-fully. Which foods lend themselves particularly well to creative breakdown? Normal dishes like Caesar salad, Hawaiian toast, or roast chicken 2.0.

An overview of the articles in this chapter can be found from page 93 onwards.

CULTURAL SPLASH. To create inspiring, exotic dishes, restaurant owners blur our national borders. With NARA black, they have all they need for exotic preparations with local ingredients. Ramen bowls, oval dishes, shallow cups, and soup plates, with and without reliefs, now broaden the repertoire of this popular stoneware range.

GET TOGETHER. The table is a space where different perspectives and emotions meet. The new glazes from NARA in powdery rosé and white convey positive vibes. The soft look and feel turns the masculine design into a feminine statement.

NOSE TO TAIL. Rising food prices and growing environmental awareness are bringing the restaurant industry back down to earth. A trend that is also reflected in the choice and presentation of food. Honesty and authenticity are hot menu items. With its striking, easy-on-the-hand relief, NARA black&white translates this new sensibility into a visual and tactile experience.
